Hello Everyone,

Happy 2012 to you all. I really hope that this new year brings you all the things you dream about..... Whatever they maybe....

I have lots of new projects planned and some new classes to share with you too! I also have a couple of New Years Resolutions, one of which is to get back to blogging which I have sadly neglected since the craft show last year. We enjoyed the show and meeting lots of new faces, but it was the intense few months of preparation and planning that was crazy busy! We all needed a rest!

I have a very exciting year ahead myself which will bring about a few changes in the shop for the short term. My husband will be working for an extended time in China and I plan to spend some time over there with him. So some of our regular classes may not run at times during this year. However Michelle and Lorraine will keep most things flowing as usual when I am away.

Keep up to date with what is going on in store by following our blog,

Happy stitching,

Liisa

The Notice Board

- Newsletters will now only be sent via email, unless you are a current customer club member without an email address.
- This email list is solely for the use of The Quilters Corner, it is not shared with any third parties.
- Email us— info@thequilterscorner.com.au if you wish to receive this newsletter regularly.
- Customer Club Discounts will now only be given on presentation of a current club card.
- Unfortunately there will not be any retreats this year as I will probably be away. They are booked again for next year though. Perhaps this year you could look at booking a small retreat for yourself and a few friends. I can certainly recommend The Circle Retreat at Buderim! I have been there and it is lovely! It is owned by a quilter and has been designed as a quilting retreat.
- Vignette Magazine No 5 by Leanne Beasley, is now available. We still have limited numbers of the previous issues in case you missed them! You can go on our subscribers list and we will post it to you as soon as the next issue arrives.
- Lou Lou Bag class available again this term check out the class list!
- We have a couple of Wrenly Kits still available. We have made up the free quilt pattern from Valori's website check it out- <http://www.stitchinpost.com/freepatterns.html>
- Jelly Babies is a lovely new book full of quilts designed for babies form 2 1/2" strips.
- The latest book from Pam and Nicky Lintott called 'More Layer Cake, Jelly Roll & Charm Quilts' is now available.
- A new Michele Hill designed William Morris inspired BOM called the 'Arts and Crafts Sampler' using her new fabric range is now available. Our version of has been made using the 'burgundy/pink' border print from the range so it is a slightly different colourway from the original. The blocks are almost the same though, just a different sashing and border print. Our sample will be ready to view shortly, it is going to be quilted next week.

Beginners Machine Quilt Sampler *
